

INTERNATIONAL COMPOST AWARENESS WEEK

• SPONSORSHIP KIT 2019 •

WHAT IS INTERNATIONAL COMPOST AWARENESS WEEK (ICAW)?

International Compost Awareness Week (ICAW) is a strategic marketing campaign about the benefits to the community of composting and recycling organics. Hosted annually by the Centre for Organic Research & Education (CORE) in May, ICAW receives extensive publicity and media coverage around Australia. While ICAW is a concentrated week of events, the campaign is promoted throughout the year resulting in extensive media coverage viewed by the broader community. This provides sponsors with a substantial exposure opportunity.

Your support and involvement in ICAW will enhance your organisation's reputation and image with the community and focus attention on an activity that most households participate in, in one form or another – organics recycling.

WHY SPONSOR?

SUPPORT A CLIMATE CHANGE INITIATIVE

Composting is nature's way to sequester carbon back into the earth. This process has occurred over millions of years reducing the presence of carbon in the atmosphere and cooling the earth's climate.

EXPOSURE TO AN AUDIENCE OF OVER 2 MILLION PEOPLE

ICAW has a media partnership with Universal Magazines who publishes Good Organic Gardening, Eat Well and Well Being Magazine. The campaign will be promoted through their printed magazines, e-newsletters and Facebook pages.

BE KNOWN AS A SOCIALLY RESPONSIBLE BUSINESS

ICAW has established a reputation across Europe, North America and Australia for supporting and promoting composting, a powerful and essential natural recycling process. Your customers and employees are increasingly demanding that businesses take responsibility for their own impacts to the environment. Your company's association with ICAW will increase your competitive advantage, improve company culture and generate significant community goodwill.

BRAND RECOGNITION AND PROMOTION

Your investment will result in significant exposure during the ICAW campaign period. Promotion and advertising will also be facilitated at individual events, as well as through radio and online.

GREAT NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES

ICAW events will bring together a range of compost products and service providers with community, government and industry interest groups. Each event will provide valuable opportunities to further business ventures and discover new business partners.

ABOUT THE CENTRE FOR ORGANIC RESEARCH & EDUCATION (CORE)

The Centre for Organic Research and Education (CORE) is a not-for-profit organisation supporting and promoting the beneficial reuse of recovered organic resources. This work helps to promote the organic cycle, particularly organic recycling, food production and organic products. Highlights during the 12 month program include International Compost Awareness Week Australia (ICAW) and National Organic Week (NOW).

The CORE network is substantial. The CORE team works with industry and government partners and connects thousands of CORE Members. Over the years, shared agendas have included climate change abatement, organic practices, food waste avoidance and composting. CORE programs have served to promote products made from recovered and recycled resources. They have helped open up new markets, from treating run-off from wrecking yards and city streets to helping farmers reduce chemical input, save water and increase yields.
